The primary objectives of this Board of Studies meeting are to collaboratively review, discuss, and finalize key aspects related to the academic programs offered by the Department of Computer Science and Engineering, especially in the context of our autonomous status. Specifically, the meeting aims to achieve the following:
1. Syllabus Review and Approval: To meticulously review and obtain approval for the proposed syllabus revisions and new course additions for the upcoming academic year/semesters, ensuring alignment with industry standards, national policies, and emerging technologies.2. Curriculum Enhancement: To discuss and propose further enhancements to the existing curriculum, incorporating feedback from stakeholders, to improve the overall quality and relevance of our programs.3. Assessment and Evaluation Methodologies: To evaluate and refine the existing assessment and evaluation methodologies to ensure their effectiveness, fairness, and transparency in measuring student learning outcomes.4. Review of Autonomous Batch Performance (2024-25): To present and analyze the academic performance of the first-year autonomous batch (2024-25), specifically reviewing the successful completion of the Odd Semester and the ongoing progress of the Even Semester, identifying strengths and areas for improvement.5. Feedback Integration: To incorporate valuable suggestions and insights from external subject experts, VTU nominees, and industry professionals to strengthen the academic framework.6. Program Educational Objectives (PEOs) & Program Outcomes (POs) Alignment: To ensure that the curriculum and teaching-learning processes are effectively contributing to the attainment of the defined Program Educational Objectives (PEOs) and Program Outcomes (POs).

7. Addressing Academic and Research Initiatives: To deliberate on new academic initiatives, potential collaborations, and research opportunities that can further elevate the department's standing. 8.
