| National Engineers’ Day is an annual observance in India, marked on September 15, marking the birth anniversary of India’s renowned and greatest engineer, Mokshagundam Visvesvaraya. Sir Visvesvaraya was born on September 15, 1861, and is largely regarded as the creator of contemporary Indian engineering methods. He made groundbreaking contributions to the field of civil engineering, including the design and implementation of significant infrastructure projects, which influenced modern engineering practices and national development in India. SEMINAR was planned for the students to highlight best civil engineering structures. Batches were made and few civil engineering structures and topics were assigned to students as Seminar to Celebrate Engineers Day. |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                       |            |                    |            |
