Program Objective	The Department of Computer Science and Engineering (Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning) has organized a “Poster Presentation”, to provide students with an opportunity to explore, present, and discuss innovative ideas, emerging technologies, and research concepts in the field of AI and ML. The event aims to create a platform where students can demonstrate their creativity, technical knowledge, and problem-solving abilities through visually engaging and informative posters. It also encourages participants to share knowledge, exchange ideas, and develop confidence in presenting technical concepts to a wider audience. Through this program, students gain exposure to current trends in technology while improving their communication, analytical, and presentation skills Program Objective This program is designed to <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>To encourage students to present innovative ideas and research concepts.</li> <li>To enhance creativity and technical presentation skills.</li> <li>To promote knowledge sharing in the field of Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning.</li> <li>To improve communication and analytical abilities among students.</li> <li>To provide a platform for showcasing technical and research-oriented posters.</li> </ul>
